

George Washington

George Washington was a central figure in the founding of the United States, leading forces in the American Revolutionary War and later becoming the first President of the United States. George Washington is commonly referred to as father of the nation.